Multiple sclerosis (MS) symptoms can include:

- Loss of balance or coordination
- Blurred or double vision
- Eye pain
- Weakness in limbs
- Changes with bladder or bowel functions
- Numbness and pain
- Fatigue.

Over 5000 New Zealanders have MS

Average age of diagnosis in NZ is 38

MS symptoms are often persistent and unexplained.

If you continue to experience sensory changes, report them to your GP. If your symptoms cannot be explained, ask for a neurology referral.

These symptoms are not exclusive to MS. If you are concerned about sudden or severe symptoms seek prompt medical attention.

MS Societies are available across Aotearoa to support people diagnosed with MS and their loved ones.
